POLITICAL NOTES.

It has been officially reported to the English government that widespread distress is feared in Ireland this winter. The districts most seriously affected through want of employment on farms and the failure of the potato crop are Sligo, Ballina, Swineford and the greater portion of Galway. There is much destitution in West Clare and Connaught. Owing to continuously heavy demands upon Irishmen in America to support the Land League there has been a considerable decrease in the remittances to the struggling natives in Ireland. This has reduced many of the latter to the condition of being unable to purchase new seed.

Other papers suggested an too early to be making plans, and especially opposed the idea that the Democratic party was a corpse. The result of the recent election has sufficiently vindicated the correctness of the members-elect of the Forty-eighth ability and strict attention to the duties our position. And the very papers that were outspoken in their desire for new political alliances now talk hopefully of a Democratic President in 1884. They don't think the old party quite dead yet. They are right this time, and the cyclone of 1882 should teach them not to be too quick to desert an old friend.

An article appeared recently in the Abbeville Medium severely criticising the University. Upon investigation we are convinced that the Medium erred in some of its statements of facts. Good board can be obtained there in a mess for ten dollars. There is a suite mess for ten dollars. There is a suite of three rooms for every two students, which ensures much greater comfort which ensures much greater comfort and privacy than can be obtained when the obtained when the content of the content of three rooms for every two students, which ensures much greater comfort and privacy than can be obtained when the content of the cont and privacy than can be obtained when four or five occupy the same room. The cost of furnishing is a mere bagatelle. There are one hundred and forty-six students in actual attendance. Everything is moving along smoothly. There are some students deficient in preparation in one or two branches in the University as in all colleges, but by far the greater part are pursuing studies of a high order. The "student" queted as authority by the Medium is said to have recited in the class-rooms just five days, and his departure was not voluntary, but was in consequence of faculty action, owing to conduct on his part which it is not deemed proper to publish in this newspaper.
